The year 2020, the ‘Year of Nurse and midwife’, has great significance for Nurses, the world over. For one, the initiative has come from World Health Organisation (WHO) in partnership with International Council of Nurses (ICN) & Nursing Now campaign. Besides commemorating 200 years of birth of nurse legend Florence Nightingale, the idea behind earmarking 2020 for nurses is according them wide scale recognition that they have always rightly deserved. It will be for the first time in history, the nations of the world will come together in celebrating the benefits that nursing and midwifery bring to the health of the global population. “Without nurses and midwives, we will not achieve the Sustainable Development Goals or universal health coverage”, said Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, Director General WHO while making declaration of the year 2020.

Yes we all must strive to highlight the crucial role of Nurses and Midwives serve and also address the shortage and numerous problems faced by these vital professionals in this special year 2020.

After discussion in the recent Combined EC & Council meeting on how befittingly TNAI shall celebrate the Year of Nurse and Midwife, we drew up a plan. At first place is the preparation of a calendar to showcase TNAI’s activities for the year, with logo, emblem and photograph of Florence Nightingale having the inscription, Year of Nurse and Midwife.

All the TNAI State/ UT Branches shall conduct Candle Light programme on the evening of 1st January 2020, welcoming the Year of Nurse and Midwife at a public places and/or educational institutions and hospitals. It is believed that Candle March shall be an appropriate way to make nurses’ and midwives’ presence felt among lay populations. As for Headquarters, Nightingale Challenge 2020 shall be inaugurated in January 2020 after ascertaining the availability of dignitaries and venue as also the convenience of a brand ambassador to be finalised soon. Yet another initiative is the Signature campaign – to include both nurses and non-nurses, the viewers of video on TNAI website or Facebook shall be urged to sign. On the anvil are also the various competitions on the year of nurse and midwife: studies in related areas conducted on evidence-based practice in 2020; 5-minute video; 3-minute anthem for nurses etc.

Programmes to highlight nursing will be also held at the valedictory function of 200th birth day of Florence Nightingale (Nightingale Utsav) will be held along with TNAI Biennial conference 2020. The coming year shall also witness beginning the designing and construction of Museum on Nursing in TNAI’s Greater Noida premises.

If you have ideas to celebrate the Year of Nurse and Midwife at national or State level, please share with us. Wish you a happy and promising 2020 which we shall make it remarkable for, Nursing, nurses and public at large.
जोखिममा बच्चों को जब-कभी एंटीबायोटिक खिलाते रहना

"क्या कहा, बच्चे को यकायक युवार हो गया है, नाइनटी नाइन? अरे, इसमें घरवाने की क्रम बात है, सुबह-दोपहर-शाम एंटीबायोटिक का सीएस एक-एक चमच पिला दो, मैं शोशी का रेपर कादास्यै नहीं दे देती हूँ। और हां, बच्चे का मामला है, रिस्क नहीं लेना बेटी", मां ने बेटी को फोन पर समझाया।
बीमार पड़ने पर एक दूसरे को इस प्रकार की दी जाती हिदायते आपने खुब सुनी होंगी।

सच यह है कि एंटीबायोटिक दवाओं की सत्ती जानकारी और इसका अंथियुंथ हिल्टेल्स आगे जा कर खानकार बच्चों के लिए जोखिममा है। सामान्य दवाओं की तुलना में एंटीबायोटिक बहुत अधिक दमदार होते हैं। हालांकि सही एंटीबायोटिक का उपयोग किसी खास रोजज्ञ वैकटीरिया का खाल्ता तो कर देता है किंतु इसी का साथसाथ अनेक उन वैकटीरिया को भी नागा डालता है जिनका अंथित्व शरीर के उचित रखरखाव के लिए आवश्यक है। इस तुकसान की भरपाई के लिए अनुभव एंटीबायोटिक के साथ विटामिन आई की गोलियां दी जाती हैं।

एंटीबायोटिक दवाओं के दीर्घकालीन सेवन की विशेषता है कि उपचार के लिए जितनी मात्रा की जरूरत बुधुआत में होती है, आगामी दौर में उस मात्रा में जाफा करना होता है। इलाज ही नहीं, आगे चल कर इस खास दवा का असर घटने लगता है और एक दिन यह पूर्णतया नियंभायी हो जाती है। इस निश्चिति की "एंटीमाइक्रोबियल रजिस्ट्रेट्स" कहते हैं। तब जब मार कर रोगी को रहते के लिए उच्चतर श्रेणी का, अधिक दमदार एंटीबायोटिक दवा जरूरी हो जाता है।
एंटीबायोटिक दवाओं का सबसे धातक पक्ष शरीर की अनुरूपी रोगप्रतिरोध क्षमता (इम्यूनिटी) को क्षीण करना है।

संगति एंटीमाइक्रोबियल रजिस्ट्रेट्स के कारण विश्व में हजारों मौतें हो रही हैं, इसे न रोका जाए
तो 2050 तक ऐसी मौतें की संख्या एक करोड़ तक पहुँचना बताया गया है। अनेक अध्ययनों से लंबी अवधि तक एंटीबायोटिक दवाओं के सेवन से शरीर को गंभीर क्षति होती हैं, यह अधिक चिटाजनक है। हादर्श यूनिवर्सिटी के एक हालाला शोध में बताया गया कि निम्न आय के देशों में पांच साल तक के बच्चों में 25 प्रकार के एंटीबायोटिकों के बेहतरा प्रयोग से हालात चिटाजनक हो गए हैं। अफ्रीकी देश तंजानिया अस्पताल पहुँचे 90 फीसद बच्चों को जरूरत से पांच गुना डोज
दी जाती है।

I am delighted to greet you all today on the occasion of the National Florence Nightingale Awards ceremony. The Government of India instituted these awards in 1973. They are named after Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing, and the very icon of selfless care.

I congratulate the 36 nursing professionals who are being conferred with the National Florence Nightingale Awards for their meritorious services. I offer my felicitations to the entire nursing fraternity for their sincere dedication and services to fellow citizens. I also wish to acknowledge the sacrifice of Late Mrs. Lini Puthuserry who is today being honoured posthumously for her unsurpassed dedication while taking care of patients during the Nipah virus outbreak in Kerala.

Nurses play a vital role in delivering quality and cost effective health care, addressing multiple health challenges and responding to health needs of individuals, families and communities. The world is more and more in need of care and compassion, and nurses indeed are a symbol of seva, shushrusha, karuna. For patients and their families, nurses are the face of health care services. Your contribution is immense and I am glad to know that the World Health Organisation has announced 2020 as the Year of the Nurse and Mid-wife. Incidentally, 2020 will also mark the 200th birth anniversary of Florence Nightingale.

Our nurses serving in community health centres and hospitals, have played an important role in successful implementation of national health programmes like eradication of polio, malaria 2 and HIV/AIDS. I am happy to note that this year’s awardees have made commendable contribution in these areas.

The Government of India launched the Ayushman Bharat initiative to provide quality and comprehensive primary health care to people of all walks of life. More than 64 lakh beneficiaries have been admitted for treatment under this programme and more than 20 thousand hospitals have been empanelled. I hope that those States which are yet to adopt and implement the Ayushman Bharat programme shall also do so at the earliest. This is a monumental health care programme, in whose success the nursing community shall play a key role. Your service and kindness towards the patients represent the healing touch which carries a ray of hope so important for those who are ailing.

There is a considerable increase in the demand for specialized, competent and highly skilled nurses. There is also a rising demand of human resource for third and fourth level care, which requires quality training institutes. To achieve this, the Government has taken several initiatives for further development of pre-services and in-service training, education and upgradation of nursing services.

Ladies and Gentlemen, we have an increasing number of elderly people who deserve and require proper geriatric care. Earlier this week, the King and Queen of Sweden had visited Rashtrapati Bhavan. The Queen does a lot of work on issues concerning health and welfare of elderly people. We discussed how elderly people across the world need care and support as they experience ageing-related issues. They may also suffer from ailments such as dementia. In India, families take care of our elders in their old age. However, with changing lifestyles the demand for professional care-givers to take care of the elderly is on the rise. These care-givers, who need not be trained nurses, would certainly benefit from basic training in geriatric care. Our 3 nursing training institutions can consider developing short training programs for such care-givers too.

Due to your sense of service and devotion to duty, all of you from the nursing fraternity, whether in government or private sectors, have earned tremendous respect and admiration. This admiration is also evident beyond our national borders. While serving overseas, you have brought credit to our nation as well as contributed significantly through your remittances. Through your disciplined attitude and high level of professionalism, you have earned tremendous goodwill in all parts of the world.

As we honour the outstanding nursing professionals of the country, I wish you all success. The country is grateful for your selfless services and dedication. I trust that the awardees will truly inspire the entire nursing community to rededicate themselves to quality healthcare.

Thank you, Jai Hind!
